Lessons from SPRING: For innovation & programme adaptation

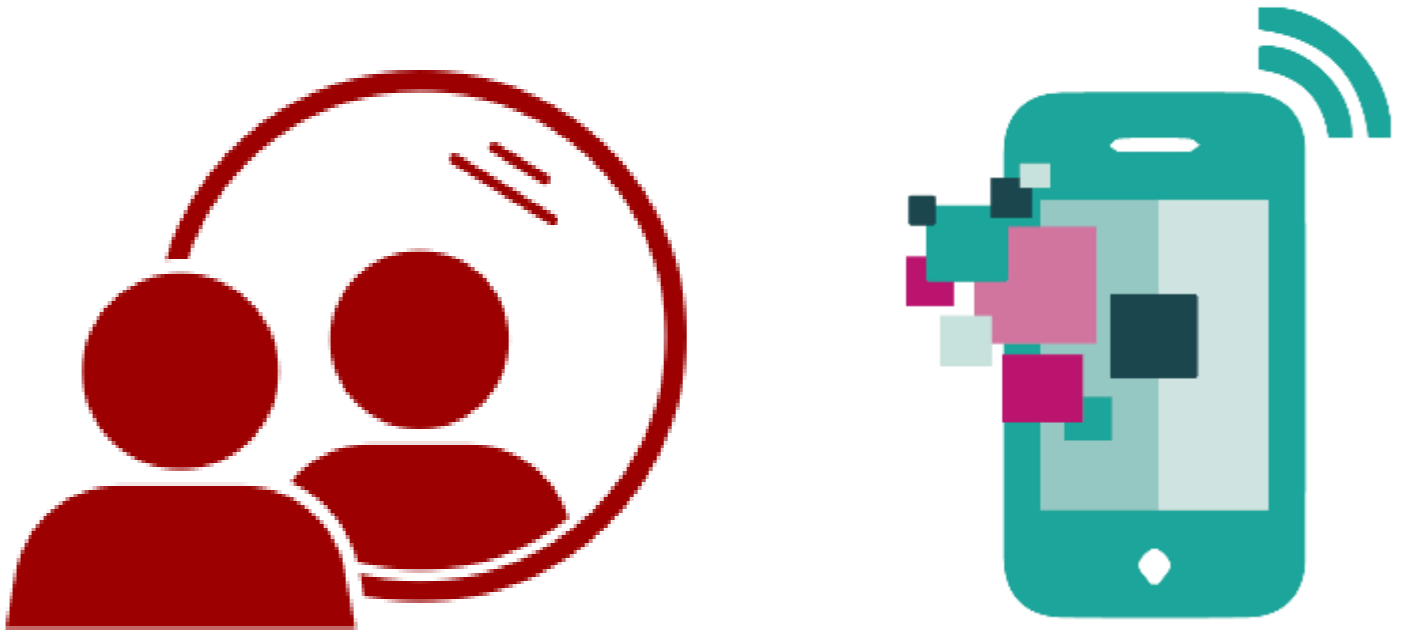

Some adaptation... But not too much!

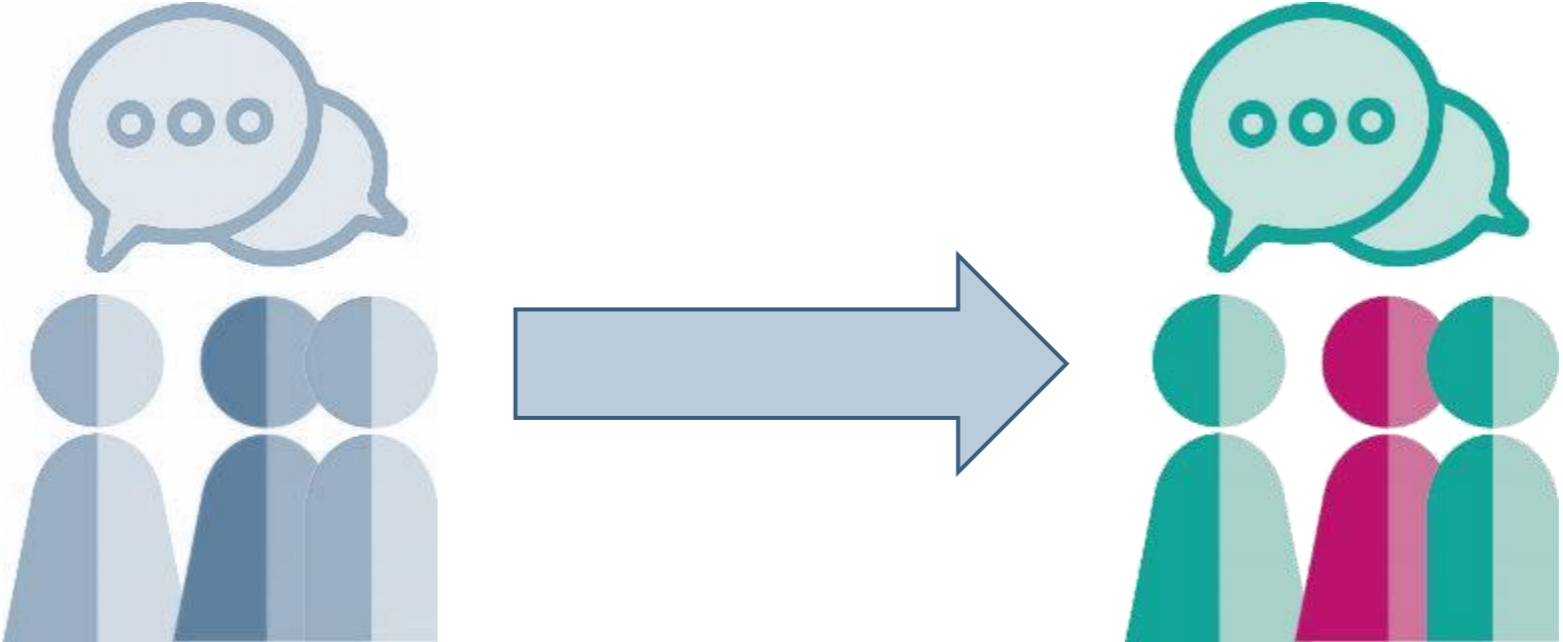

Human centred design worked as both a tool and a process

Reflection and communication for iterative adaptation

Girl focus evolved throughout implementation

Lessons from SPRING: Reaching girls while supporting business needs

A heterogeneous group

Challenge fund for businesses

Accessing girls using technology

Business 101 and Development 101

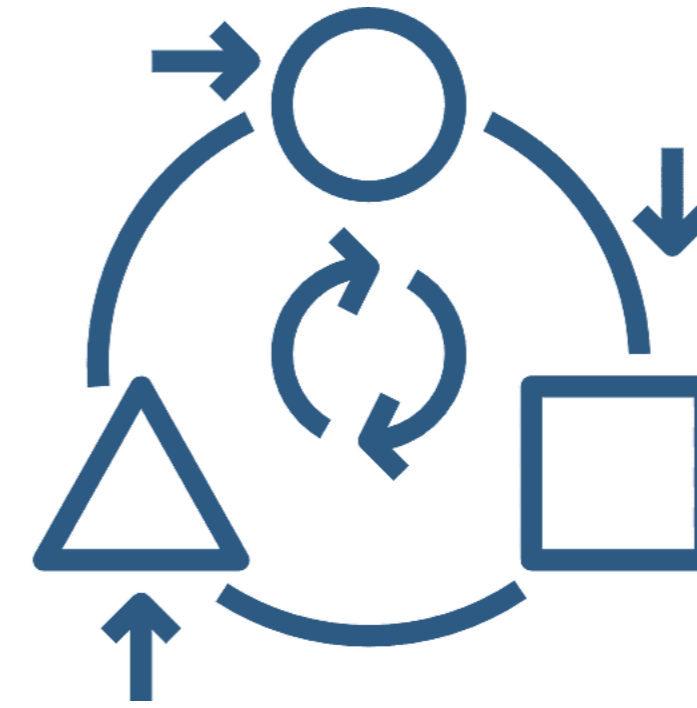

Lessons from SPRING: For working with and through businesses

Private sector resources can be leveraged

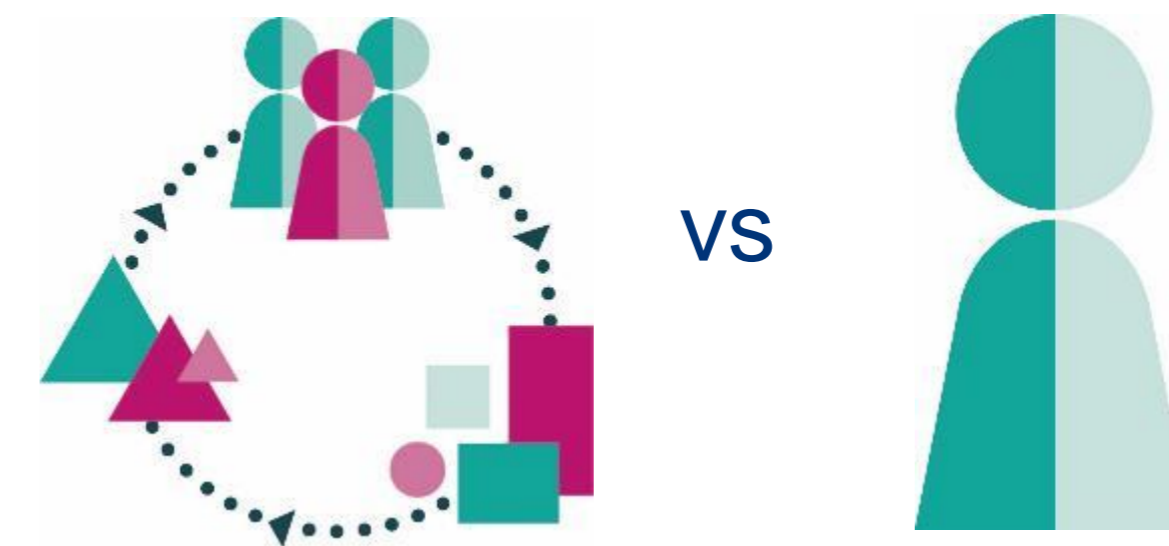

The private sector will continue to adapt

Don't forget about regulatory obstacles

Value chain versus End-user (aka Breadth vs Depth)
